Hello, I hope all of you are well. If you're not, please know that we are here for you.

Our Lectionary readings today are: Psalm 114, Judges 6:36-40, & 1 Corinthians 15:12-20. I encourage you to read all three readings but let's focus on the reading from 1 Corinthians.
Read the text… slowly. Pause. Read it again and pay attention to any words or phrases that stand out. Give that word or phrase time and space to develop in your mind, heart, and soul. Is God trying to say something to you in this word or words?

Feel free to write, draw, sing, sculpt, or act out any thoughts, feelings, reflections, or images this word - or these words - are stirring in you.

After spending time sitting with this scripture, you may want to consider these questions:
1) Is Paul emphasizing Christ's resurrection or our resurrection?
2) Why is resurrection so important to Paul?
3) Paul's writing style is often dense and repetitive; does Paul offer us a good example of the importance of reading scripture with others?
4) How important is the resurrection of Christ to you?

Have a wonderful week.
Peace, Ramiro
